Colby's superb work in the lead. The victory for Amherst after the Virginia sluggers had gained the lead. The wildness of Stephens, coupled with Amherst's ability to hit his curves, decided the result.

Hunt opened the game with a safe hit and then Cheney smashed a hot liner into Stephens hands, who neatly doubled Hunt at first. Allen was given first on balls, took second on a passed ball and scored on Smith's slashing triple. The Vir-ginians went out in order in their half of the first, but in the second Smith singled and was retired at second, while Singled and was retired at second.

Worthington reached first. A base on balls was presented to Nelson, and he and Worthington crossed the plate on Stephens' hit and Cheney's fumble. Stone's single scored Stephens. Three more runs came in for Virginia in the fourth. Abbott hit safely and landed at third on Nelson's two bagger. Al-len's wild throw to third sent Abbott home and Nelson to third. Stephens scoring Nelson. He then stole went to third on a balk and counted on Ellis' error.

After the fourth but one hit was made off Colby, and no descendant of the "F. F. V.'s" got further than first base on the circuit. With a score of six to one against them in the fifth, the wearers of the purple and white pulled them-selves together and started in to augment took first on balls, went to third on Al single. Both scored on Jackson's In the sixth Amherst won the game by pulling in four more scores. Colby singled and went to second on Stephens error, while Stearns rouped to first. Another misplay by Stephens allowed Hunt reach first. Allen's safe hit sent Col-Hunt and Allen followed on Smith's the eighth Allen came to the bat

A Great Battle To-Day.

The game to-morrow will be a hard-fought contest between Virginia and Yale. Virginia has four victories thus far, while Yale succeeded in downing Vermont yesterday. The Southerners have been in the tournament from the initial game, and many good judges predict they will be there when it closes. They will have to battle for their lives to-morrow, however, as Yale will make a great showing. Carter and Kedzie will be their battery. Stephenson, their big first baseman, has telegraphed for, and will be on

A FOUNDATION STONE, TRUE AND TRUSTY AND DULY LAID.

And Now May This Undertaking Be Prosecuted by the Craftsmen to Completion According to the Grand Plan.

A very large crowd assembled at the corner of Twenty-fourth and N streets yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to attend the exercises on the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone at the new Union-Station Methodist church. The ceremonies were conducted with Maschie herers, and were of a highly impressive character. Henrico Union Lodge, No. 139, A. F. and A. M., were present in a body, and rendered the ceremonies with peculiarly solemn effect.

The march was from the hall of the Henrico Union Lodge, near Twenty-fifth Captain B. S. Rich, superintendent of and N streets, up to Twenty-for life-saving stations of the Fifth district. Broad and thence to the church. The order of the march was carried out as printed in last Sunday's Times; The Blues' Band headed the procession. After preparation for the laying of the stone by the lodge the chaplain offered prayer, after which a splendid choir under the efficient direction of Mr. R. S. M. Valentine, assisted by cornets and other instruments, sang an ode.

The secretary then read the following list of memorials, which were placed in the cavity of the foundation stone: A book bound in parchment, containing a roll of the members of the church, numbering 997; a history of the church from 1843 to the present date; the names of the presiding elders and pastors of the congregation from the foundation to the present date; the names of the living present date; the names of the lying stewards, class-leaders, exhoriers, trus-tees, Sunday-school superintendents, and other officials, together with the commit-tees for visiting the sick and poor of the church, and likewise the names of the building and finance committees of the new church, and the architects employed; a sermon by Rev.
